Bay begins redistricting plan due to population changes

BY GEOFF BELCHER
GENERAL MANAGER

The Bay St. Louis City Council last week got the ball rolling on the latest round of redistricting, required by state law due to the change of population in its six voting wards.

“Our current numbers are off, so there will have to be some changes,” City Clerk Michael Reso said. “There have been changes in population between the districts, and there’s rules that must be followed.”

The changes will be based on the 2020 U.S. Census, Reso said.

At their regularly-scheduled meeting last week, the Family of Ga. man says deputy wasn’t justified in actions

The family of a 21-year-old man who died in December after being shot by a Hancock County deputy has notified Hancock Sheriff Ricky Adam’s office of its intention to sue for wrongful death.

The “Hancock County Sheriff’s (Office) was responding to a burglary call near 28030 Hwy. 603 in Kiln (on Dec. 10) ... around 7:30 a.m.,” according to a Mississippi Bureau of Investigation press release issued after the shooting. “When on scene, shots were fired and the subject did receive fatal injuries. The officer received no injuries.”

“Upon arrival, deputies made contact with the individual who had apparently burglarized the residence,” according to a press release from Adam at the time. “After a confrontation, officers utilized lethal force, resulting in the death of an individual on scene. Involved officers received council voted to contract with the Gulf Regional Planning Commission (GRPC) and Butler Snow to begin the process.

The GRPC will provide GIS and map drawing services to the city to create new ward boundaries based on the latest census, with services to be paid on an hourly basis "not to exceed $7,500 without prior written approval."

Under the contract, GRPC will notify the city when it has expended 75 percent of the not-to-exceed amount and will provide an estimate of time to complete the redistricting effort.

Butler Snow will advise on legal issues and related law pertaining to redistricting; review and analyze current redistricting plans and advise as to related legal issues; meet with councilmen to get input on the possible development of new wards; prepare and - in consultation with GRPC — draw a draft map for the council and host a public hearing to obtain input from the public on any proposed map or maps; present the final map to the council for adoption; and "generally render all legal advice necessary for the proper preparation, adoption and approval of any redistricting plans.

According to the contract, Butler Snow will be paid "a lump sum of $23,000, plus reasonable expenses," not including any litigation that might result from redistricting.

In other action last week, the council voted to approve the purchase of two Heritage Stars to honor fallen policemen Sgt. Steven Robin and Officer Branden Estorffe, who died in the line of duty last December.

The council authorized the purchase from the Hancock County Development Foundation "at a cost not to exceed $1,500," and approved the placement of the Stars in front of the new police station under construction on Main Street.

The Hancock Chamber established the Hancock County Community Development Foundation as a 501 (c) 3 public charity in May 2006 to act as an umbrella organization for 20 non-profit causes for projects with a broad community focus. The specific purposes of incorporation are to sponsor and support educational and community programs that stimulate job creation, foster small business growth, workforce development, historic preservation and the arts.

Southern Rail Commission discusses imminent return of passenger rail service in Bay St. Louis

GENERAL MANAGER

The Southern Rail Commission hosted its quarterly meeting in Bay St. Louis Friday, in eager anticipation of the restoration of passenger rail service across the Gulf Coast.

“We really can’t say ‘when’ it will happen, just that it will be this year,” long-time Southern Rail Commissioner Kay Kell — a Bay St. Louis resident — said this week. “We are anxious to do that (set a date), because we know that’s what everybody wants.”

During the meeting, commissioners discussed ongoing Amtrak tests along the rail corridor, as well as such issues as what sort of food should be served on the trains, once service is restored.

Amtrak conducts a test run past the Bay St. Louis Train Depot.

“We had a conference call yesterday with Amtrak marketing and the partner businesses in Mobile and New Orleans, and talking about all the people we need to target, all the audiences — it was pretty incredible to see the list. There are so many people to reach out to, pleasure-seekers, military, university students, families “Another thing that came up that kind of surprised me — the general public has not ridden the train in so long, they really don’t know what it’s like any more.

“Everybody knows what to do when they go to the airport, but they’re not sure about the train. We ant everybody to feel comfortable with the idea of getting on the train.”

The passenger rail restoration project has been in the works since early 2016, when members of the SRC, Sen. Roger Wicker and then-Gov. Phil Bryant conducted an Amtrak tour from New Orleans to Jacksonville, Fla., stopping in Bay St. Louis and other points on the Gulf Coast along the way.

The city of Bay St. Louis has been working with county, state and federal officials to secure funds for needed updates at the Depot grounds and throughout the district to accommodate the new service, and most of those projects have been completed. Once the service is operational, there will also be stops in Gulfport, Biloxi and Pascagoula.

Officials say the service would be a huge boon for Bay St. Louis, bringing two trains a day in from New Orleans, and two trains a day in from Mobile.

At around 9:11 a.m. on Saturday, Bay Police Chief Toby Schwartz said in a statement, “Rick Duhon was arrested and charged with DUI — Other Substance, following a single-vehicle crash on Dunbar Avenue near Hwy. 90.”

Duhon’s vehicle crashed into a power pole, forcing Mississippi Power crews to work for several hours to restore power to dozens of homes in the neighborhood.

The other accident occurred at about 7:42 p.m. on Friday, Bay P.D. Capt. Rachel Jewell said, when “a vehicle exiting a parking space in the 200 block of North Beach Boulevard struck a golf cart traveling northbound in the roadway. A passenger of the golf cart was transported to Gulfport Memorial Hospital for treatment of her injuries.”

No arrests were made in the incident, Jewell said. The identities of the parties involved have not yet been publicly released.

Robin and Estorffe, who served with the Bay P.D., were killed in the line of duty last December.

Morris said he knew the families and the department were still grieving from the tragedy, and it’s the mission of Support Our Shields to honor the sacrifices of our law enforcement heroes.

“Supportourshields.com is dedicated to those brave men and women who are heroes that risk their lives every day in order to protect and serve,” according to the organization’s website. “Our mission is to support police officers by combating negative stereotypes and narratives that are rampant today by encouraging positive police and community interaction. We do this by recognizing the important role our police play in society and promoting the contributions that often go unreported. We are committed to using multimedia to highlight the brave men & women who risk their lives every day to protect us.

“We personally deliver plaques to police departments and thank our hero police officers who protect and serve us, keeping our communities safe, responding to our calls for help, and running to danger while others are running away.”

Last month, Robin and Estorffe were honored at the Mississippi Governor’s Safety Awards Ceremony, held during the first annual Mississippi Public Safety Summit. They were posthumously awarded the Governor’s Medal of Valor for First Responder of the Year.

Flag Retirement Program

Edmond Fahey Funeral Home works with local residents and the veterans services organizations to properly retire any U.S. flag that has reached the end of its service.

Our program is designed to honor our national heroes, our military veterans, and to give dignity to our American Flag when it is no longer worthy of display.

We strive to see that each veteran being cremated has a flag. There is no charge for this service to our veterans.

According to the United States code, Title 4, Chapter 1, Subsection 8: "The flag, when it is in such condition that it is no longer a fitting emblem for display, should be destroyed in a dignified way, preferably by burning."

If you would like to honor a deceased veteran by donating an aged or worn flag to be properly disposed of, you may do so by delivering the flags to our funeral home located on the corner of Ncaise Avenue and Main Street.

"We pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America and to the Republic for which it stands, one Nation under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all."

MS Poet Laureate to visit Hancock, judge local poetry contest entries

BY GWEN IMPSON

If you are like many people, poetry brings to mind something that was mandatory in an English class long ago but has little impact in our everyday life.

If you stop and think about it, there is a real connection between poetry and music and music is definitely a part of our everyday lives. Both forms involve rhythms, flow and cadence. Both involve feelings, personal reflections and memories.

Poetry is not high brow, something just a few would enjoy. Poetry doesn't have to rhyme or have a serious purpose. You can write poetry just for the fun of it.

Think of a favorite song, the lyrics are poetry. Poetry has no requirements or limitations. Poetry is not gender specific or age specific. Poetry is a personal way of expressing yourself. Just as a favorite song evokes emotions and feelings, poetry has the ability to tell a story, describe a place, or express emotions.

The Arts, Hancock County and the Hancock County Library System are sponsoring a Poetry Competition open to youth, teens and adults. The deadline is June 20th so there is still time to enter. Entry forms are available at all libraries, at the Hancock Art Center or online at hancockarts.org.

The theme of the competition is "The Poetry of Place."

The competition is open to Hancock County residents. We have so many special places in our county. What is yours? Pick a place and write about it or write about why that place is important to you.

The entries will be judged by Mississippi's Poet Laureate, Catherine Pierce, who will spend two days with us in July. All sorts of activities are planned both by The Arts Hancock County and the Bay St. Louis Library. It's quite a coup to have the State Poet Laureate visit here.

"I am really interested in helping people see that poetry is for everyone and that poetry can enrich our daily lives," Pierce said.

More information about the activities can be found on The Arts website at hancockarts.org or the Bay St Louis Library at www.hcls.info.

Father's Day

“A toast to the things for which there are no substitutes: good friends...happy days...and...victory,” — Perry Mason

The above quote is taken from one of my father’s favorite television series, Perry Mason. According to IMDB.com, the series was about a famous defense attorney Perry Mason, based on characters from Erle Stanley Gardner’s novels. Admittedly, I haven’t watched an episode of Perry Mason. I was definitely more of a Matlock fan. I have so many memories of watching that show with my Maw Maw, who was a DEVOTED Andy Griffith fan. Years ago, I gifted her a CD of Griffith’s gospel hymns and the look on her face when she received it was just priceless. When he is watching it, he will send me a text and describe the “bad” guy in a particular episode. He knows that I’m HUGE fan of Little House on the Prairie, so he always texts when the actors who portrayed Doctor Baker and Reverend Alden guest star. With Father’s Day coming up this Sunday, like some people, I’m remembering all the things that make my relationship with my father so special. He’s the reason why I love the movie Animal House so much; well, the reason I love any abnormal film or documentary. He was my first editor. During my college years, I sent him every single one of my essays to read over for me. He would even read the ones I wrote at about 2:30 in the morning, mere hours before they were due. I can always send him funny memes and we will have a good laugh about the particular topic. He is even passing on his good taste in television to my nephew. They are almost always watching the original The Three Stooges together. My nephew just giggles constantly when he is watching is. His favorite stooge is Moe and my dad’s favorite has always been Shemp. As for me, I’m a big fan of Curly. This past weekend, the nephew and I listened while my dad watched a plethora of horse races leading up to the Belmont. Spending a day at the races in New Orleans are some core memories that include not only my father, but also his dad, my Paw Paw; corned beef sandwiches; and a delicious serving of bread pudding. While I have an overwhelming amount of good memories, I know that some didn’t have the father figure I did. Some might have had their

Hancock History: Waveland (1889-1968)

HANCOCK HISTORY
by James Keating
M.D.

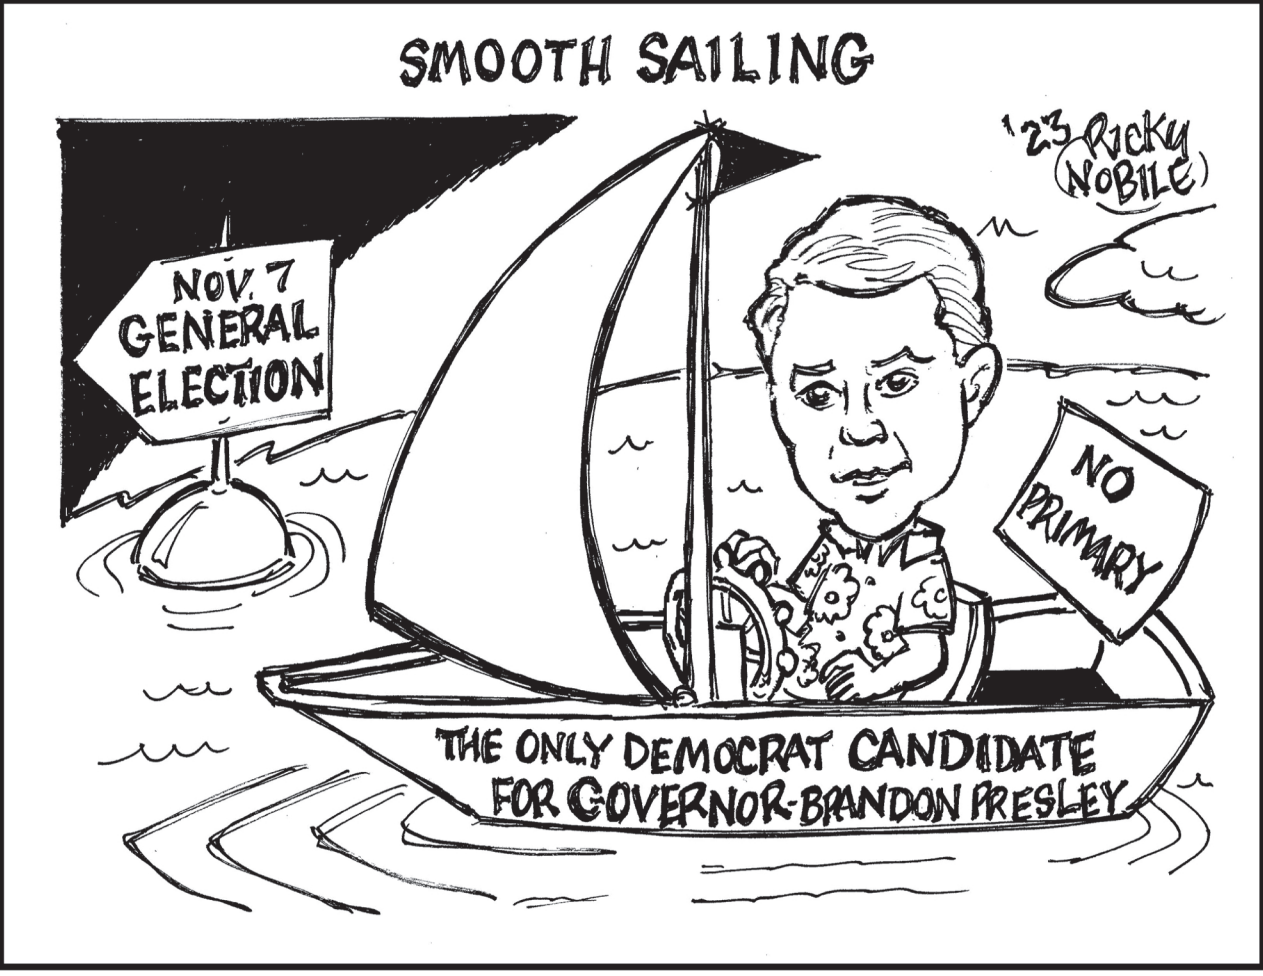

After the Civil War Waveland enjoyed significant growth attributable to prominent New Orleanians building substantial homes for their families on the waterfront. One famous house was Fort Nicholson which was built by Eliza Poitevent Nicholson in 1881 on Beach Boulevard. Eliza was the owner and editor of the New Orleans “Daily Picayune.” In 1882 Father LeDuc of our Lady of the Gulf with a donation of $1,000 from Emile Carriere, then President of the Citizens Bank of New Orleans, commissioned Charles Sanger to build a little mission wooden church on Beach Boulevard. Thus, the St. Clare Church was founded and by 1898 mass was celebrated weekly. Furthermore, the town and the congregation grew and the church was enlarged to double its size by 1903 and again enlarged in 1938. The railroad was built in 1872 and this important infrastructure literally created Waveland into a summer resort town. Waveland became a separate town from Bay St. Louis by a special charter in 1888. It was located mainly between the two railroad stops. The first mayor was L.H. Fairchild. Alfred Ulman and Olus Bourgeois were councilmen. Bourgeois was also the town marshal. The Bourgeois Family is an important clan that has played a major role in the story of Waveland over the years. At that time Waveland was considered a suburb of New Orleans for the wealthy. Land was expensive in the 1890’s, especially beachfront property compared to the rest of the county. Rich merchants would commute to work on the L & N Railroad. These folks wanted a yacht club and in 1898 the sailors agreed to partner with the Bay St. Louis sailors and the Bay Waveland Yacht Club was established at the foot of Washington Ave in the Baie. J. B. Ulman was a respected local businessman in Waveland and he built a general merchandise business in a large wooden building across from the woolen mill. In 1905, Olus Bourgeois was elected mayor. Herlihy and Haas had a store in town that lasted from 1910-1920. Waveland’s first public school opened on Coleman Avenue in 1905. It was converted into the town hall in 1931 when a new school was built on Coleman Avenue near the railroad tracks. It was later closed and turned into a civic center when the school district was combined with that of Bay St. Louis, under orders from the State Department of Education. Waveland shared a past with the Baie until 1888, but the town has its own identity and history. For example, Waveland maintains a prohibition of commercial development on the beachfront, making Waveland the only coastal town where the shores are strictly residential. As a result, Coleman Avenue evolved as the commercial epicenter of Waveland in the first half of the Twentieth Century. Waveland acquired electric lights in 1912. The honorable Hamilton Dudley Coleman (1845-1926) was a businessman and politician who served one term in the United States House of Representatives representing Louisiana’s 2nd district between 1889-1891. “Bay Home” was his beachfront residence and Coleman Avenue extended back from the beach. The town hall and school were on the corner of

Tiger Tails, Part 2: Reminiscing on LSU

One of the Tiger Stadium unique events happened after 9/11. My wife and I were planning to attend the game in Baton Rouge but it wasn’t until Wednesday noon before the authorities decided to play the game the following Saturday. I forget who LSU was playing but the halftime was absolutely stunning. Prior to halftime, the crowd’s reactions were fairly subdued. At halftime, the band took center field. Then, Mr. Lee Greenwood walked out onto the field. Though he had planned to sing a new song, there was only one song he could sing now: “GOD BLESS THE USA”. When he got to the phrase “... STAND UP ...NEXT TO YOU”, incredibly, 76,000+ people automatically stood in complete defiance of the Islamist extremists who had destroyed 3,000 innocent Americans in the NY World Trade Center. I am not sure I have ever been prouder to be an American than at that moment. It was one of those memories which will live forever. Still another electric moment in Tiger Stadium came for the first game of 2007 against Virginia Tech. In the spring of that year, 32 people had been murdered on the Va. Tech campus by a mad man. Unknown to the crowd, LSU had decided to honor and memorialize the lost Virginia Tech people. Before the game, the crowd observed a moment of silence (during which a small plane could be heard above the early fall haze.) Then, a paraglider with an American flag attached to his leg emerged out of the haze and landed in the middle of the field. A few moments later came another with the LSU flag. Then, to everyone’s surprise, a third paraglider came through the haze.... with a big Virginia Tech flag. The LSU band, led by the Virginia Tech flag, then marched over to the stadium area where the Virginia Tech fans were seated. They lined up and proceeded to play the Virginia Tech Alma Mater. There were very few dry eyes in the crowd. It was the only time in Tiger Stadium history that the LSU Band ever played the opposing team’s alma mater. Walking out of the stadium and for years after, Virginia Tech alums and fans expressed their appreciation for the incredible memorial on that misty fall night in Tiger Stadium. (Oh Yea, and we won the game.) On a fall night, one of the best (and noisiest) games in Tiger Stadium history took place. LSU lost to No 1 USC and their Heisman Trophy winner Charles White on a last-minute touchdown. Both teams had fought hard for 60 minutes and left nothing on the field. Amazingly, as the game ended, virtually no one left the stadium. I had never seen this before particularly after a loss. 76,000+ people stood and applauded for the next 15 or so minutes as the players shook hands, hugged, and waived to the crowd. And now, the rest of the story. Several years after this game, I was invited to a USC Alumni meeting in Ventura California where I was working. Also attending and the night’s featured speaker was the same Charles White. During post speech questions, White was asked what he remembered most about his playing days. To my total amazement and de-mother, a grandparent, or a close friend fill that role.

I also think it's perfectly okay to choose not to celebrate a father that wasn't in one's life. Just because one is related by blood does not obligate people to celebrate or tolerate toxicity, abuse, and/or abandonment.

To the many who have lost their fathers or father figures, I hope that that the memories of them bring happiness, not only during this designated day society sets aside to show their fathers how much they care by buying them something, but also all year long.

I'm very grateful for my father. He's not perfect and can be quite ornery at times, but I wouldn't have him any other way.

HISTORY

Bourgeois Street and Coleman Avenue.
The first half of the Twentieth Century witnessed population growth of Waveland from 521 in 1900 to 3,108 in 1970. Automobiles began to replace horse and buggy during and after World War I. The Old Spanish Trail (Highway 90) was completed in 1927. The old wooden bridge spanning the Bay of St. Louis was constructed in 1928.
In 1923 Bishop Robert E. Jones bought the old Jackson House and converted it into the Sea Song School for black children. The building was destroyed by a fire in the 1940's. The campus was converted into the Gulfside United Methodist Assembly for conventions, family reunions, cultural programs, and conferences as well as a summer camp for children.

Pat Bourgeois (b. 1941) is a descendant of the old Bourgeois Family that started Waveland and lived in Waveland during the 1950's. He lived on St. Joseph Street and his parents were Lloyd and Irene Carvin Bourgeois. Pat attended the Waveland School on Coleman Avenue and then graduated from St. Stanislaus.

He served in the army and worked for the Veterans Administration. He retired after thirty-five years.
Pat remembers the heady days on Coleman Avenue before Hurricane Camille. Most of the commercial activity in Waveland was on Coleman Ave. and most residential houses were south of the railroad tracks. Pat reports that the citizens of Waveland did almost all of their business and recreation on Coleman Ave. For example, the Merchant's Bank, a fire department, Harry Lynch's drug store, Brewster Mollere's Jewelry store, and Torgeson's gas station did a lively business for the town folk. Food could be purchased at Scrumshaw's grocery, H.G. Hill grocery store, and Joe Colson's seafood market. For home repair, Herlihy's hardware store, and the Markel lumber yard offered tools and wood. Favorite restaurants included Haverty's Restaurant and a steak house. Friendly taverns quenched the thirty patrons at Charles and Ramona's Bar and Villere's Bar. You got a haircut at Chris Ladner's barber shop and there were others.

In a forthcoming column the history of Waveland after 1968 will be presented.

• JOSEPH PREUSZ

Joseph Vincent “Gumbo Joe” Preusz, age 59, passed away on June 3, 2023 after a short illness at his home in Pearl River, Louisiana. He is survived by his wife, Tracy Lynn Preusz (nee Gervais); his mother, Janet H. Preusz (nee McGeorge) of Hammond, Indiana and San Antonio, Texas; and two sisters, Pamela Nelson (Tim Plunkett) and Patricia Preusz. He was preceded in death by his father, Gerald C. Preusz of Loogootee, Indiana. Joe was born in Indianapolis, Indiana on August 30, 1963. He attended North Central High School in Indianapolis and graduated in 1982. Joe was a long-time member of the Boy Scouts of America and attained his Eagle Scout designation in 1978. Joe worked as a sales representative in New Orleans for a number of years and later as a commercial truck driver. After retiring from trucking, he enjoyed working for Walmart. In his spare time, Joe enjoyed cooking and going on road trips. As an amateur comedian, he made people laugh wherever he went. Joe was a free spirit with a big heart and an unparalleled sense of humor. He will be very much missed by all who knew and loved him. Private funeral services will be announced at a later date. minor injuries during the encounter. In accordance with department policy, investigators from the Mississippi Bureau of Investigations are leading the investigation. The identity of involved individuals is deferred at this time. ... Our agency will be fully cooperative with the investigation being conducted by the Mississippi Bureau of Investigations.”

The deceased subject was later identified as Isaiah Winkley, a 21-year-old Georgia resident and college student.

Attorney Lance Stevens — representing Winkley’s parents, Rev. Dwight Winkley and Catherine Winkley — last week filed a letter of intent-to-sue, in accordance with state law.

In the letter, Stevens said the family plans to ask for at least $500,000 in damages, accusing those involved in the shooting of “negligence, malfeasance and/or reckless conduct” in causing Isaiah’s death.

The deputy who shot him, since identified as K-9 Deputy Michael Blackwell, resigned from the sheriff’s office effective May 24, Adam said Tuesday.

“Any time there’s a loss of life in an officer-involved shooting, it has to go to the grand jury,” Adam said. “It will be presented to the grand jury and those 16 men and women will make the decision whether (the shooting) was justified or not.

“It’s all on video, and they have it, and they will make their determination. We respect the process.”

light, the man who won the Heisman Trophy, a national championship and an undefeated season replied the thing he remembered most was..... “Playing football in LSU’s Tiger Stadium! It’s the only time I can remember where not only the visiting team couldn’t hear the signals but neither could the home team! Their fans were both supportive and have a great knowledge and appreciation of football.” As my host turned to me, I returned his gaze with a silly ear to ear grin and mouthed “Geaux Tigers”. He just laughed. Anyway, when the meeting ended, I went up and introduced myself to Mr. White and let him know I was at the game. For the next 15 minutes, Mr White could not have been more effusive in his praise for Tiger Stadium and how he valued the memory of playing there.

The following fall, my wife and I were given 50-yard line tickets to see LSU and USC play in the Los Angeles Coliseum. We were both struck by how quiet and subdued the crowd was. (My comment was that there was more noise in an LSU bathroom than was in the Coliseum.) Midway through the 2nd quarter, LSU scored on a long pass play. Automatically, my wife and I jumped up and started cheering at the top of our lungs as we would in Tiger Stadium. As the play ended, I realized we were standing alone in the middle of less than happy USC fans who completely surrounded us. Then, two rows in front, I saw two very dark eyes staring at us. The eyes belonged to a very unhappy O. J. Simpson. (OOPS... obviously, Mr. Simpson had not talked to Mr White!) Anyway, LSU went on the win the game but I have to admit, Audrey and I became a little more subdued for the remainder of the game.

Billy Cannon, LSU’s only Heisman Trophy winner, died on May 20, 2018. It is almost eerie that on the same day that Cannon died, a third string quarterback from Ohio State named Joe Burrow who was to become LSU’s second Heisman Trophy winner, walked onto the LSU campus for the first time. In his second year, Burrow led LSU to one of the greatest seasons in college football history. The 2019 team set record after record while recording an undefeated season and National Championship. It was speculated that after the incredible season, when LSU coach Ed Orgeron got back to his office, he immediately placed a phone call to Ohio State. When the Ohio State coach came on the line, Coach Ed asked: “Do you guys have any other quarterbacks you don’t want!!!” (Oops..... now that’s brutal! Probably shouldn’t mention this one to any Ohio State fans.)

Oh Well, us old time Tigers can hardly wait for the next silly, strange, uncanny, but fun stuff that will define LSU football and their Tiger Stadium home. Geaux Tigers! Lloyd Ramirez, BS, Mechanical Engineering, 1961.

2022 ANNUAL DRINKING WATER QUALITY REPORT

STANDARD DEDEAUX WATER ASSOCIATION

PWS#: MS 0230063 | MAY 2023

We're pleased to present to you this year's Annual Quality Water Report. This report is designed to inform you about the quality water and services we deliver to you every day. Our constant goal is to provide you with a safe and dependable supply of drinking water. We want you to understand the efforts we make to continually improve the water treatment process and protect our water resources. We are committed to ensuring the quality of your water.

Contact & Meeting Information
If you have any questions about this report or concerning your water utility, please contact Linda McKay, Administrator at 228.255.6800. We want our valued customers to be informed about their water utility. Please attend meeting scheduled for the second Tuesday of each month at 6:00 PM at 24084 Standard Dedeaux Road, Kiln, MS 39556.

Source of Water
Our water source is from wells drawing from the Graham Ferry Formation Aquifer. The source water assessment has been completed for our public water system to determine the overall susceptibility of its drinking water supply to identify potential sources of contamination. A report containing detailed information on how the susceptibility determinations were made has been furnished to our public water system and is available for viewing upon request. The wells for the Standard Dedeaux Water Association have received lower susceptibility rankings to contamination.

Period Covered by Report
We routinely monitor for contaminants in your drinking water according to federal and state laws. This report is based on results of our monitoring period of January 1st to December 31st, 2022. In cases where monitoring wasn't required in 2022, the table reflects the most recent testing done in accordance with the laws, rules, and regulations.

As water travels over the surface of land or underground, it dissolves naturally occurring minerals and, in some cases, radioactive materials and can pick up substances or contaminants from the presence of animals or from human activity; microbial contaminants, such as viruses and bacteria, that may come from chemical treatment plants, septic systems, agricultural livestock operations, and wildlife; inorganic contaminants, such as salts and metals, which can be naturally occurring or result from urban storm-water runoff, industrial, or domestic wastewater discharges, oil and gas production, mining, or farming; pesticides and herbicides, which may come from a variety of sources such as agriculture, urban storm-water runoff, and residential uses; organic chemical contaminants, including synthetic and volatile organic chemicals, which are by-products of industrial processes and petroleum production, and can also come from gas stations and septic systems; radioactive contaminants, which can be naturally occurring or be the result of oil and gas production and mining activities. In order to ensure that tap water is safe to drink, EPA prescribes regulations that limit the amount of certain contaminants in water provided by public water systems. All drinking water, including bottled drinking water, may be reasonably expected to contain at least small amounts of some contaminants. It's important to remember that the presence of these contaminants does not necessarily indicate that the water poses a health risk.

Terms and Abbreviations
In the table you may find unfamiliar terms and abbreviations you might not be familiar with. To help you better understand these terms we've provided the following definitions:

Action Level (AL): The concentration of a contaminant which, if exceeded, triggers treatment or other requirements that a water system must follow.

Maximum Contaminant Level (MCL): The "Maximum Allowed" (MCL) is the highest level of a contaminant that is allowed in drinking water. MCLs are set as close to the MCLGs as feasible using the best available treatment technology.

Maximum Contaminant Level Goal (MCLG): The "Goal"(MCLG) is the level of a contaminant in drinking water below which there is no known or expected risk to health. MCLGs allow for a margin of safety.

Maximum Residual Disinfectant Level (MRDL): The highest level of a disinfectant allowed in drinking water. There is convincing evidence that addition of a disinfectant is necessary to control microbial contaminants.

Maximum Residual Disinfectant Level Goal (MRDLG): The level of a drinking water disinfectant below which there is no known or expected risk of health. MRDLGs do not reflect the benefits of the use of disinfectants to control microbial contaminants.

Parts per billion (ppb) or micrograms per liter: one part by weight of analyte to 1 billion parts by weight of the water sample.

Parts per million (ppm) or Milligrams per liter (mg/l): one part by weight of analyte to 1 million parts by weight of the water sample.

82. TTHM [Total trihalomethanes]	N	2022	1.74	No Range	ppb	0	80	By-product of drinking water chlorination.
Chlorine	N	2022	1.7	1.27 - 1.82	mg/l	0	MRDL = 4	Water additive used to control microbes

* Most recent sample. No sample required for 2022. Sodium: EPA recommends that drinking water sodium not exceed 20 milligrams per liter (mg/L). Excess sodium from salt in the diet increases the risk of high blood pressure and cardiovascular disease.

We are required to monitor your drinking water for specific contaminants on a monthly basis. Results of regular monitoring are an indicator of whether or not our drinking water meets health standards. In an effort to ensure systems complete all monitoring requirements, MSDH now notifies systems of any missing samples prior to the end of the compliance period.

LEAD INFORMATION
If present, elevated levels of lead can cause serious health problems, especially for pregnant women and young children. Lead in drinking water is primarily from materials and components associated with service lines and home plumbing. Our water system is responsible for providing high quality drinking water, but cannot control the variety of materials used in plumbing components. When your water has been sitting for several hours, you can minimize the potential for lead exposure by flushing your tap for 30 seconds to 2 minutes before using water for drinking or cooking. If you are concerned about lead in your water, you may wish to have your water tested. Information on lead in drinking water, testing methods, and steps you can take to minimize exposure is available from the Safe Drinking Water Hotline or at <http://www.epa.gov/safewater/lead>. The Mississippi State Department of Health Public Health Laboratory offers lead testing. Please contact 601.576.7582 if you wish to have your water tested.

VIOLATIONS
As you can see by the table, our system had no violations. We're proud that your drinking water meets or exceeds all Federal and State requirements. We have learned through our monitoring and testing that some contaminants have been detected, however the EPA has determined that your water IS SAFE at these levels.

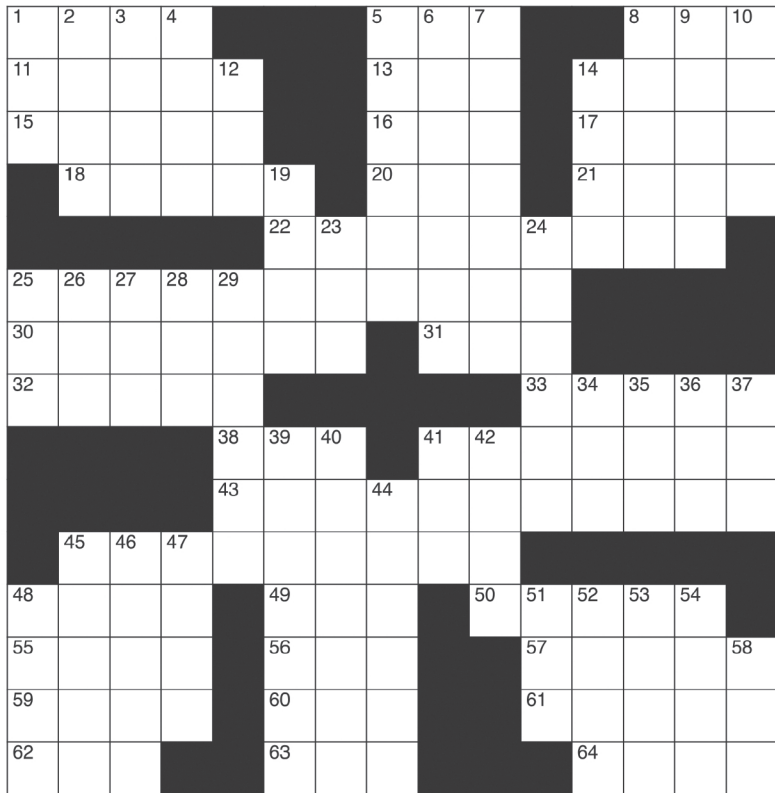

UNREGULATED CONTAMINANTS
Unregulated contaminants are those for which EPA has not established drinking water standards. The purpose of unregulated contaminant monitoring is to assist EPA in determining the occurrence of unregulated contaminants in drinking water and whether future regulations are warranted.

All sources of drinking water are subject to potential contamination by substances that are naturally occurring or man-made. These substances can be microbes, inorganic or organic chemicals and radioactive substances. All drinking water, including bottled water, may reasonably be expected to contain at least small amounts of some contaminants. The presence of contaminants does not necessarily indicate that the water poses a health risk. More information about contaminants and potential health effects can be obtained by calling the Environmental Protection Agency's Safe Drinking Water Hotline at 1.800.426.4791.

Some people may be more vulnerable to contaminants in drinking water than the general population. Immuno-compromised persons such as persons with cancer, undergoing chemotherapy, persons who have undergone organ transplants, people with HIV/AIDS or other immune system disorders, some elderly, and infants can be particularly at risk from infections. These people should seek advice about drinking water from their health care providers. EPA/CDC guidelines on appropriate means to lessen the risk of infection by Cryptosporidium and other microbiological contaminants are available from the Safe Drinking Water Hotline 1.800.426.4791.

The Standard Dedeaux Water Association works around the clock to provide top quality water to every tap. We ask that all our customers help us protect our water sources, which are the heart of our community, our way of life and our children's future.

What A Fellowship

By REV. C. GERALD RICHARDSON, D. MIN

C. Gerald Richardson, D. MIN.

During my many years of ministry in The United Methodist Church I had the privilege, and the responsibility, of serving on the Board of Ordained Ministry of the church. This was the body which held the responsibility of determining when a candidate was to become an official member of the clergy of the denomination. For a number of years this board was chaired by Dr. Alfred Norris who was a leading pastor. Later, he became president of one of our theological seminaries, and he eventually was elected a bishop of the church.

Recently, Gulfside Assembly, a historic ministry here in Hancock County, Mississippi, celebrated its 100th anniversary. My wife, Carolyn, and I share a small part in that ministry. We attended the opening reception of the event, and to my delight, Bishop Norris was there as well. He is retired now and living in Georgia. He was to be the keynote speaker at the primary worship service of the celebration. We would not be able to attend the service due to the illness and consequent death of a family member, so it was especially fortunate for us to be able to spend some time with him that evening.

One of the memories that we recalled that night was the practice of Bishop Norris to begin each meeting of our board by leading us in singing the old hymn “Leaning on the Everlasting Arms”.

- What a fellowship, what a joy divine, leaning on the everlasting arms,
- What a blessedness, what a peace is mine, leaning on the everlasting arms.

- O how sweet to walk in this pilgrim way, leaning on the everlasting arms,

- O how bright the path grows from day to day, leaning on the everlasting arms.

- What have I to dread, What have I to fear, leaning on the everlasting arms?

- I have blessed peace with my Lord so near, leaning on the everlasting arms.

Sometimes people ask me why I continue to participate in the church. Surely I know of its many failings. I am often distressed by its unwillingness to take courageous stands in the face of the injustice around us. There are times when petty disagreements and disputes interfere with ministry. Even so, I am grateful for that powerful fellowship which offers a blessed peace in the face of a fearful world.

I am thankful for that brief reunion with my old friend whom I greatly admire, and for the fellowship we share and were able to renew in Waveland a few weeks ago. I am also thankful for Gulfside Assembly. It has a rich heritage of service, and it continues to make a difference for good in our community today.

What a fellowship, what a joy divine.

SISSIPPI

for non-conforming lots in Section 713.3, Side Yard, as stated in Ordinance #349. The revision is in section 713.3C and the new wording will state “For a lot of record, which qualifies pursuant to forming and which measures sixty (60) feet or less in width, the Zoning Official is authorized to grant a variance of side yard

Early Notice and Public Review of a Proposed Activity in a Wetland
To: All interested Agencies, Groups and Individuals
This is to give notice that the Hancock County Board of Supervisors (HCBOS) and Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission (HCPHC) have determined that the following proposed action under the Katrina Supplemental Community Development Block Grant (KCSBG) Program through the Mississippi Development Authority (Subgrant Number R109-023-07-KCR) will impact wetlands. HCBOS and HCPHC will be identifying and evaluating practicable alternatives to locating the action in wetlands and the potential impacts on the wetland from the proposed action, as required by Executive Order 11990, in accordance with HUD regulations at 24 CFR 55.20
Subpart C Procedures for Making Determinations on Floodplain Management and Protection of Wetlands. The proposed activity will: encompass the rehabilitation of an existing 12,500-square-foot
(SF) aircraft packaging hanger.
Additional improvements include the construction of a 150-foot (ft) by 50-ft concrete apron; rehabilitation/construction of a 290-ft by 20-ft access road; rehabilitation/construction of a 75-ft by 25-ft access drive; construction of an 800 SF paved parking lot, and the cleaning and shaping of the two ditches to ensure positive drainage. A wetland delineation was performed on February 13, 2023.
Based on the field delineation, the proposed project will impact 0.49 acres of wetlands. The proposed project(s) is located 14061 Fred and Al Key Road in Kiln, Mississippi.
There are three primary purposes for this notice. First, people who may be affected by activities in wetlands and those who have an interest in the protection of the natural environment should be given an opportunity to express their concerns and provide information about these areas.
Commenters are encouraged to offer alternative sites outside of the wetland, alternative methods to serve the same project purpose, and methods to minimize and mitigate impacts. Second, an adequate public notice program can be an important public educational tool. The dissemination of information and request for public comment about wetlands can facilitate and enhance Federal efforts to reduce the risks and impacts associated with the occupancy and modification of these special areas. Third, as a matter of fairness, when the Federal government determines it will participate in actions taking place in wetlands, it must inform those who may be put at greater or continued risk.
Written comments must be received by the Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission at the following address on or before July 5, 2023: Hancock County
Port and Harbor Commission, 14054 Fred & Al Key Road, Kiln,
MS 39556 and 228-467-9231,
Attention: Maureen Anderson,
Project Manager. A full description of the project may also be reviewed during normal business hours at the address above. Comments may also be submitted via email at manderson@hchphc.ms.

Hancock County Tuition Assistance Program Provides over 65 local students with financial support

The Hancock County Tuition Assistance Program (CTAP) awarded over $74,000 of tuition assistance to 69 students with an average award of just over $1,000 per student in 2022-2023 school year to attend Pearl River Community College (PRCC) for the 2023-2024 school year. The funds provide any remaining financing for tuition students need after other grants, scholarships and awards have been accounted for. The funds do not need to be paid back and have been awarded to over 125 students since the program's creation in 2021.

The funds from the CTAP program are awarded to qualifying high school graduates who reside in Hancock County, to attend four consecutive semesters at PRCC in a degree or certificate program of their choosing. The program supports workforce development and local economic growth by keeping young minds local and contributing to the growth of the region. This program is made possible through support from County and City officials in the City of Diamondhead and Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission approved by the Hancock County Board of Supervisors.

The American Legion will open its kitchen for the event.

Cars 4 a Cause this Saturday

Cars 4 a Cause, a first annual fundraiser, to be held this Saturday, June 17, from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Coleman Ave., Waveland. The event is sponsored by Gulf Coast Christian Women's Job Corps-Magdalene House, a non-profit located in Hancock County. To register or be a sponsor call, Barbara Ambrose at 228-493-0504 or Diane Bennett at 228-324-6687.

In the 2021- 2023 school years, the program provided over $130,000 in tuition assistance to local students. City of Diamondhead contributes $5,000.00 and HCPHC contributes $60,000 a year to the program, with the goal of providing opportunities to graduates of the local high schools and supporting existing industry demands. The CTAP program ensures that no student is left without an option to obtain a quality education in Hancock County and PRCC aims to fill the gap, ensuring that each student has funding available to cover up to full tuition.

Blaine LaFontaine, CEO of HCPHC emphasizes the importance of the program: educational programs and gain the skills and training needed to enter the local workforce. The more Our desire for Hancock County through the CTAP program is for every student to have continued access to students who receive post secondary education and training will help to fulfill jobs we have available in Hancock County and create a pipeline for years to come allowing us to recruit more high paying employers to the county.”

With the creation of CTAP, students don't need to withdraw from college due to a lack of funding. The impact is significant and the combined resources of partners opens opportunities for students who may not have viewed college as a financial option before.

Candace Harper, Vice President for Enrollment Management & Business Services at PRCC underlines the program's gravity: “As a first-generation college student, myself, I can personally testify that the emotional struggle surrounding how to pay for college is one that deters many from attending. I commend what is being done and wish more counties would see the value in helping fill in the gaps for our college students who return the investment tenfold as contributing citizens in our workforce.”

Pearl River Community College continues to move Hancock and surrounding counties into the future by developing the latest courses and resources to fill workforce development gaps. The latest addition to their Hancock County campus is an Aviation Workforce Academy to support the aerospace industry in Hancock County and beyond.

MEET POLLY!

This lovely girl was very shut down, emotionally, when she first came into the shelter. We will never know her back story, as she was brought in by Animal Control. At first she was paralyzed with fear, and could not bring herself to make eye contact. However, she has made leaps and bounds in her confidence, thanks to the efforts of the staff and volunteers. We feel that she is ready to meet new friends, both potential adopters and new doggie friends. She responds amazingly to soft words and a gentle approach. Polly is likely 2 to 3 years old, and a Labrador Retriever mix. Her coat is lovely with a chocolate brown sheen that is especially rich in the sunlight. If you have any questions about Polly, or would like to meet her, please call our front desk at 228-466-4516. You may also stop by during our visiting hours (Mon, Wed-Fri 10am-3:30pm and Tues 1pm-3:30pm) to meet this beautiful, sweet girl. With lots of love and just a little patience, Polly will be the perfect companion.

THE SEA COAST ECHO

You win some You lose some

BY SONNY SCHINDLER
STAFF WRITER

I only get to fish with my friend Scott Emmel, maybe once a year. Over the years we have had some good trips and some bad ones(fishing wise). This last one, was the one we had been waiting for, for many years.

Scott was a coast native, until he went off to West Point. Now a colonel in the US Army, married, and father of two in Oklahoma City, it is rare to get Scott back on the water. He knew he was going to be in town during this spring, and booked his date many months out. Scott grew up here, attended Saint Stanislaus, and was a standout athlete for many years. He has many friends that still live in the area. A few days before the trip, he asked if anyone from his old crew was around to join us. I texted our good mutual friend Nathan Guice. He was over in Lafayette with his family for a soccer tournament. He told me if they won they would have to come back the next day, if they lost, he would meet us at the dock in the morning.

As luck would have it, both Nathan and Scott arrived at our dock in Bayou caddy as the sun was rising. This was probably the first time they had hung out in two or three decades. To be perfectly honest, the ride out was about the most catching up they got to do. As soon as we got to our first spot, one of our other boats was already there slinging fish over the side. Scott and Nathan went right to work and every Bait that went in the water got annihilated by BIG speckled Trout. Finally, this was the trip that Scott had been waiting for. We started off pitching shrimp and croakers with great success. I grabbed a tandem rig artificial set up that was immediately attacked by two large trout. Soon after, Scott and Nathan, both had double rigs, and we're both catching two Trout at a time. It was about as good of fishing as you would ever see.

Somehow, we managed to get a few stories in about the good all days. Hearing some of the stories about Scott's travels since high school were fascinating.

While we were in the middle of the trout bite, a piece of debris floated by the boat. Underneath the debris was a triple tail. Scott has been wanting to catch one of those for a long time and I'm happy to say we were able to check that box and never leave the trout bite. Once the boys had enough trout for themselves, and their families, We went looking for more triple tail. We must have seen six or eight in a very short time. Scott was able to get a legal sized one to take home, and as always, we seem to have missed the biggest one of the day.

It was an amazing trip. Catching fish and catching up with our old friend made for a very memorable day. I was a little disappointed that Nathan's son didn't win his soccer game the day before. I was also a little sad that Scott wasn't able to get that big triple tail. However, we had a box of big trout, a nice triple tail, and had a wonderful day hanging out with great friends. You win some and you lose some...

FATHER'S DAY HISTORY

BY JASON PLATZ
STAFF WRITER

Each year, the third Sunday in June is a time to pay homage to fathers and the millions of other men who have stepped into the role of father. While it may seem as though Father's Day has been around forever, it didn't become a nationally recognized holiday in the United States until 1972, when President Richard Nixon signed Joint Resolution 187 into law.

Many thank Sonora Smart Dodd for making Father's Day happen. In 1909, while attending a Mother's Day sermon in church, Dodd felt fathers were equally deserving of praise. To honor her own father, a Civil War veteran and widower who raised six children alone, Dodd petitioned for a Father's Day on June 5th (the anniversary of her father's death) in her native Spokane, Wash. The celebration was deferred to the third Sunday in June. Another account says Grace Golden Clayton came up with the idea for a Father's Day in 1908 in Fairmont, West Virginia. Clayton was inspired to celebrate fathers after 361 local men perished in a deadly mine explosion. Clayton brought the idea up to the minister of her local church. Historians say that Father's Day may even be a much older idea. St. Joseph's Day, which was celebrated each year on March 19 in Catholic nations of Europe since the medieval era, and later elsewhere around the world, commemorates Joseph, the husband of Mary and father figure to Jesus. It was said that Joseph should be held up as the ideal example of fatherhood. The Coptic Orthodox Church celebrates St. Joseph's Day on July 20. In the Orthodox Christian Church, the second Sunday before the Nativity is celebrated as the Sunday of the Forefathers — celebrating all of Jesus' male ancestors, with an emphasis on Abraham, the patriarch of the Jewish faith.

MEMORABLE WAYS TO CELEBRATE DAD THIS FATHER'S DAY

BY JASON PLATZ
STAFF WRITER

Dads do a lot for their families, and Father's Day is the perfect time to acknowledge those efforts. The days when dads would receive a colorful necktie for of genealogy has skyrocketed over the last decade-plus, as various firms have made it easier than ever for individuals to trace their family histories. If Dad counts himself among the millions across the globe inter-by a subscription to a genealogy service and a tour of some of Dad's childhood haunts before the family enjoys brunch or dinner in the neighborhood where Dad grew up.

- Take to the great outdoors. Father's Day is Father's Day are largely (and, for fathers, thankfully) a relic of the past. Modern Father's Day celebrations tend to involve more careful planning, and the following are some ways to make this year's day for dads one to remember.

- Take Dad on a tour through his own history. The popularity ested in their family histories, moms and kids can work together to create a virtual tour through that history. Present the history as a printed book or as a video, sharing interesting things you learned about Dad's ancestors but also highlighting key moments in his life. This presentation can be accompanied celebrated in mid-June, making the day a perfect time to enjoy the great outdoors (weather permitting). Plan a day around Dad's favorite outdoor activity. If Dad is an avid fisherman, book a family outing on a charter boat so Dad can focus on catching fish and not navigating. If Dad loves being in natural settings, camp out the night before Father's Day so he can wake up to the sound of birds chirping in the crisp morning air. If Dad has a favorite baseball team, take him out to the ballgame so he can soak up some Father's Day sun.

- Book a private chef. If Dad has a fascination with food, perhaps nothing can make Father's Day more memorable than a delicious meal served by a private chef. Private chefs will do all the work, giving moms and kids more time to spend with Dad throughout the day, and then the whole family can enjoy a special meal made by someone whose specialty is crafting delicious dinners. Offerings vary, but many private chefs handle all the cooking and cleaning. Identify Dad's favorite dish and then look for a chef who specializes in that type of cuisine.

- Appeal to Dad's inner adventurer. Some Dads may just want to relax on Father's Day, while others may prefer a more adventurous celebration. If Dad falls into the latter group, book a fun and adventurous activity the whole family can enjoy together. A kayaking trip, a skydiving session, a round of paintball, or even tickets to a rock concert on Father's Day weekend can connect Dad with his inner adventurer. There's no shortage of ways for families to make this Father's Day one Dad won't soon forget.

FATHER'S DAY GIFT IDEAS FOR ALL TYPES OF DADS

BY JASON PLATZ
STAFF WRITER

This Father's Day, families will gather to thank dads for all they do. Gifts often are part of Father's Day celebrations, and here's a list of gift ideas for dads with various interests.

- GAMING DAD
The draw of popular video games doesn't abate for some men as they get older. If your dad is at home with game controller in hand, then gifts that feed his hobby can be ideal. Virtual reality has made great strides. Devices that enable VR game play and other entertainment may appeal to Dad. There are a few options on the market, like the Oculus, Pico Neo, HTC Vive, and Valve Index. Another option is to gift the Ninten-
- do Switch Console, which enables your dad to play at home connected to the television or on the go with the handheld controller and screen combination so he never misses a chance to engage in game play.
- SPORTS DAD
Tap into your father's love of sports with gifts tailored to his passion. Baseball and soccer are played during warm months, so tickets to a game is something dads and their children can do together. You also can cheer his team on in front of a new big-screen television he gets for being such a great dad.
- OUTDOORSMAN DAD
If your dad is most at home with a fishing pole and tackle box, kayaking a nearby

- body of water, or hiding in a tree stand during hunting season, then gifts that cater to his love of the great outdoors are perfect. Insulated thermoses, waterproof bags for storing phones or wallets, multitools, backpacks, and hiking boots make great gifts.
- TECHY DAD
Does the idea of the latest "smart" offering get your father all revved up? Then purchase gifts that cater to his love of gadgets. Maybe he can use a new tablet or laptop that bridges the gap between home and office. Could it be time to upgrade his smartphone? A doorbell camera or home security kit can help Dad keep an eye on the comings and goings around the

- house when he's away. Or help him create surround lighting effects that can react to content on the screen or music being played with LED smart lighting strips.
- PRACTICAL DAD
Some fathers don't want flashy gifts, instead preferring ones that can be used everyday. Think about a new paper shredder or identity block roller stamp to keep sensitive information safe. If Dad takes long road trips, then he might be able to use a car visor extender or a smartphone holder. Shelving, racks or storage straps for the garage also may put a smile on Dad's face. This year, make Father's Day a smash hit with gifts that cater to Dad's interests.
